Report of the President

The community that Beth Israel Hospital serves has for some time now taken Beth Israel for granted. It knows that Beth Israel is here and expects it to take care of everyone who wants to come in, no matter how short the notice. It expects perfection of this Hospital and of its medical staff and its professional, technical and other personnel numbering approximately 1100 persons. Though, not infrequently, members of the community may form judgments which are harsh and unjustified, this high expectation has a salutary effect.

Unfortunately, no institution, no employee, professional or lay, can be perfect all the time. We at Beth Israel recognize that we must attain a higher percentage of perfection than the community attains in its business and elsewhere, and we are constantly striving to that end.

When you judge B.I.'s performance, one must take into account that to make B.I. tick, requires the handling of about 1100 employees, of 500 doctors on the staff, of upwards of 600 sick people, many of whom enter and leave on the same day, and of the families and friends of the sick. There is also the volunteer work, the undergraduate and postgraduate teaching that goes on, and the research activity.

The care of the sick rests in the hands of a partnership of many skills. This partnership of skills involves many specialties in medicine itself, in addition to other professional and technical skills from allied fields such as nursing, social service, physical therapy, nutrition, and engineering.

Combined with these skills are the great advantages of the teaching and research that are carried on at Beth Israel. Contrary to what some may think, teaching and research are not an expensive luxury. Because of teaching and research, we are able to attract to our Hospital, doctors of the highest caliber, and they not only set the tone and standard for medical care, but not infrequently also contribute directly to the care of the patient.

Our affiliation with Harvard Medical School, Tufts Medical School, with the University of Pennsylvania in Dentistry, with Boston University School of Nursing, with Simmons College in Social Work, and also Tufts College in Physical Therapy, with the Children's Hospital and with the doctors from all over the country who attend the several post graduate courses conducted at the B.I. by members of its staff, indicate their appraisal of our institution and of those who go to make it up. This high measure of confidence from such sophisticated professional groups could not be attained if it were not merited. This also, more directly than the community generally realizes, indicates the stamp of approval of our patient care.

To provide this patient care, our budget for the year October 1, 1957, to September 30, 1958, is something over $5,100,000. This does not include over $525,000. of research grants that will be spent at Beth Israel, nor the money spent directly for B.I. by its wonderful Women's Auxiliary.

Our costs are ever mounting just as they are in every business and in every home. The details of income and expenses are given in the pages of this annual report.

To illustrate mounting costs, I would like to point out only two factors that occurred during recent years.

On September first of this year, salaries for nurses and nurses' aides alone were increased by $163,000. a year. Also not long before that, most employees of the Hospital, other than doctors, went on a 40 hour week instead of 44 hours. This had the effect of increasing the number of employees and the amount spent for wages.

We get money to meet this staggering budget, —

First, from charges to patients. Your Board of Trustees realizes that patient charges are high, but we pride ourselves that our charges are no higher, and in some instances are lower, than the charges of comparable hospitals.

Second, from income from our Endowment Funds which we expect this current year will yield approximately $212,000.

Third, from funds provided by our Women's Auxiliary which are used largely for special services for needy patients.

Fourth, from the Associated Jewish Philanthropies, of which we have asked for the current year the sum of something over $580,000. We are ever grateful to the Associated Jewish Philanthropies for its continued support and we at B.I. are constantly striving to reduce the amount of the subvention that we must ask for. It is interesting to note that nine years ago, the Associated Jewish Philanthropies gave to the Hospital approximately $650,000. or something over 31% of our budget, and that this year we have asked of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies about $580,000. which is only slightly over 11% of our budget.

I have mentioned a large amount of income that we secure from endowment funds. The stimulus for establishing and increasing endowment funds came from David Watchmaker and S. Robert Stone, two of our past presidents. The necessity to provide funds for the Combined Jewish Appeal has deterred the Board of Trustees in the past several years from actively seeking additional endowment funds. The income from these endowment funds plays a large part in our ability to reduce the amount of our annual request for subvention to the Associated Jewish Philanthropies and, as we decrease our request, we leave the Associated Jewish Philanthropies with more money to give to its many other worth-while constituent agencies.

I take this opportunity of urging each and every one of you to review your will and, if necessary make provisions or additional provisions for legacies to Beth Israel. I also ask all lawyers and accountants to urge upon their clients to heed this request. Further, I believe that it is part of the duty of each trustee to do what he can to increase our endowment by his own giving or by securing funds from his friends. Much money is available in Boston and is given each year to institutions other than the Combined Jewish Appeal. If every trustee secured for our endowment fund as little as $5,000. each year, it would amount to $375,000 a year. Just think what this would mean in, say, 10 years.

Your Board of Trustees has recently adopted certain recommendations made to it by its Executive Committee. When these recommendations are fully implemented, we not only will function more economically and accomplish greater efficiency, but we will also in certain areas change procedures that have on occasion caused annoyance to patients and their families.

We are to be congratulated on the spirit with which our administrative personnel have welcomed these recommendations and their generally enthusiastic approach to the implementation of the recommendations.

Our Home Care Program, which has been recognized nationally as of the highest caliber and which has to date been supported largely by our Women's Auxiliary, has now matured. In accordance with the policy established at the inception of this program, we have asked the Associated Jewish Philanthropies to gradually take over the support of this program.

Next year will mark the 30th year of Beth Israel at its present location. The constantly expanding facilities and the stature it attained are a high tribute to the vision of the past and present Board of Trustees and the professional and lay personnel of the Hospital. This event should not go unmarked and, with the approval of the Board of Trustees, I have appointed a special committee to make plans for its proper celebration.

Studies are being made by appropriate committees leading to the establishment of policies by the Board of Trustees to determine the extent to which Beth Israel must expand its facilities to keep ahead of changing community health requirements. We expect that the result of these studies will require significant capital expenditures and I hope that these studies will be fully completed, and the announcement thereof will be made as part of the 30th anniversary celebrations.

We record with genuine sorrow the death during the past year of Honorable A. K. Cohen, Louis Golden, and Lincoln Filene, members of our Board. These men contributed much — not only to the development of the Hospital — but to many other community activities, and justly deserve the high esteem in which they were held by Beth Israel and also by the community.

My warmest thanks to Dr. Cecil G. Sheps, our Hospital Director, his assistants and department heads, to Dr. Nathan Sidel, Chairman of the Medical Executive Committee, and the members of the medical and other professional staff. I wish there was time enough so that I could enumerate to you the positions of responsibility in this community, and nationally, held by members of our medical staff — not only full time members, but also members who are in private practice and who serve the Hospital on a visiting basis. This makes a very impressive list and indicates the high regard in which they are held by the medical community. I am sure you will all take pride in the fact that our Dr. Herrman L. Blumgart, our Physician-in-Chief who is also Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, is spending four months in India at the invitation of the Rockefeller Foundation. He is there to advise a number of medical centers as to the soundest development of their program of patient care, education, and research.

I express my gratitude also to the Women's Auxiliary, the many volunteers who served so faithfully, and to every worker who helped our Hospital.

I sincerely trust that all who are devoting themselves to Beth Israel feel with me the deep satisfaction that comes from serving so worthy a cause.

Abram Berkowitz

Report of the Executive Director

At the annual meeting in December, live illustrations of services performed by the Hospital were presented instead of my reading from a written report on Hospital activities for the fiscal year. I arranged a presentation illustrating the coordinated utilization of the patient care, educational and research activities as they actually take place in the Hospital. The united objective: high quality care for Beth Israel Hospital patients.

How all the resources of the Hospital were brought into play to bring added effective years to a 72-year-old ward patient was described by a team of medical specialists, including medicine, psychiatry, social service and physical medicine and rehabilitation. While the white-haired lady, who had been brought to the Hospital paralyzed by a stroke, sat in her wheel chair with some crocheting she had done, the specialists explained how his particular skills had contributed to bringing marked improvement, renewed faith and hope to the patient.

The second illustration highlighted the importance of the research activities of the Hospital and their direct relationship to the improvement of diagnostic techniques so as to improve the care which is given to patients. A new radioactive test for thyroid function was demonstrated. This test was developed by a research team at Beth Israel and, since the annual meeting, is being used regularly in the treatment of patients at this and many other hospitals.

That a hospital must be prepared for all emergencies at a moment's notice was dramatically illustrated by a young woman, whose story was presented. During the performance of a simple non-operative procedure at the Hospital, some weeks before, her heart suddenly stopped beating. She was brought back to life by the swift and efficient action of a B. I. emergency medical team, thoroughly trained in all emergency procedures. Without delay, her heart was massaged and the Pacemaker applied. The Pacemaker is an apparatus developed at the Hospital to resuscitate a heart that has stopped beating.

These live illustrations, while demonstrating the availability, utilization and unity of patient care, educational and research programs of Beth Israel, emphasize the Hospital's recognition and awareness of its community responsibility to provide the best care for its patients, whether or not they are able to pay for such services.

It is interesting to note that, of the 105,502 patient days of care given during the fiscal year, almost one third represents the medical and hospital care given totally free to ward patients, or at charges which were far less than the cost of providing for their care.

The volume of service this year remained at a high level. There were more babies born, more visits to the Out-Patient Department, an increase in the days of Home Care Service and more operations and diagnostic activities, including laboratory tests.

As Hospital services to the patients have increased, so has the need for physical expansion and modernization. During the year, the Recovery Room and Pathology and Clinical Laboratory Departments and the facilities of the Record Room were expanded. A continued study is being made by a committee of the Trustees to determine what improved facilities are needed in order to carry out the present program of patient-care responsibility more effectively.

Very soon it will be thirty years since the Beth Israel Hospital has been located at its present new location — with its present program of service, education and research. We have much to be proud of. There is much still to be done.

Continuous forward progress is dependent upon the understanding and cooperation of the Trustees, the community generally, the full-time and visiting medical staff, and the more than 1100 employees of the Hospital.

To all these I want to express my grateful thanks.

REPORT OF PRESIDENT, WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

A report of the Women's Auxiliary is best expressed through its diverse activities which are carried on by its more than 8,000 members, a large group of whom are included in our branches in Dorchester-Mattapan-Milton, Everett, Hull, Malden, North Shore and Roxbury. Whether by means of financial support or through volunteer service, our efforts are directed toward meeting the health needs of this community.

Each member participates in meeting the cost of free care in our Out-Patient Department through her annual dues. Life membership offers a share in capital improvements to the Hospital which this year included redecorating Carleton House, our dietitians' home, and a bus shelter on Brookline Avenue for patients and employees. Gift shop and Thrift Shop patronage provides additional equipment and services to our patients. Our Remembrance Fund and BIBS enable us to participate in the patient care, medical education, and research programs of the Hospital.

The Home Care Program, sponsored four years ago by the Women's Auxiliary, continues to receive a large share of its support from the proceeds of our Annual Luncheon. We take great pride in the knowledge that the pioneering which we did in this project has resulted in the establishment of a permanent Home Care Program.

Because the Combined Jewish Appeal now carries on a spring campaign, our Annual Luncheon was held this year on November 25th, and for the first time since 1949, on one day. Nearly 3,000 women assembled in the Commonwealth Armory which, through the tireless efforts of an outstanding Annual Luncheon Committee, proved to be one of the finest affairs of its kind in the community.

During the past year over 600 volunteers served the Hospital, offering services to and for patients. Their 52,564 hours of service were given to the Gift Shop, Thrift Shop, Coffee Shop, Blood Bank, Admitting Office, Patients' Library, Patients' Service, Surgical Dressing Units and Musical Therapy. Volunteers give clerical service in our Auxiliary office; they assist our dietitians in making patients' trays more attractive; they brighten the days of our Pediatric patients; and they serve in important positions on our committees. Hundreds of additional hours of service are given by our officers, directors, chairmen, and committee members through their many activities in connection with their Auxiliary responsibilities.

Among the new services offered this year, a Newcomers' Committee was established to offer hospitality to the wives of house officers by helping them to find housing, becoming acquainted with the community, and offering them the opportunity of getting to know each other. The Auxiliary again sponsored a successful party for the Hospital employees in June, and provided recreational programs for nurses, dietitians and house officers. We are happy to report our continued sponsorship of financial assistance for student and graduate nurses.

In the interests of creating a better-informed membership as well as a better-informed community, the Auxiliary has embarked on a more active public relations program by engaging the services of a Director of Public Relations and Education Services. Future plans include the regular publication of a newsletter for our entire membership and the initiation of educational programs concerning the Hospital as well as health care problems of general interest.

I am happy to report that our Junior Auxiliary continues its contributions to the Tumor Clinic as well as its volunteer services to the Thrift Shop. These young women repeatedly demonstrate by their enthusiastic and intelligent interest and participation in the work of the Hospital, that they are training themselves for future leadership in the Women's Auxiliary.

The Women's Auxiliary believes that it has an important role in the activities of the Beth Israel Hospital. Our efforts are constantly directed toward increased membership and greater service in the hope that we may contribute to the growing position of leadership in the fields of patient care, medical education, and research which is held by the Beth Israel Hospital.

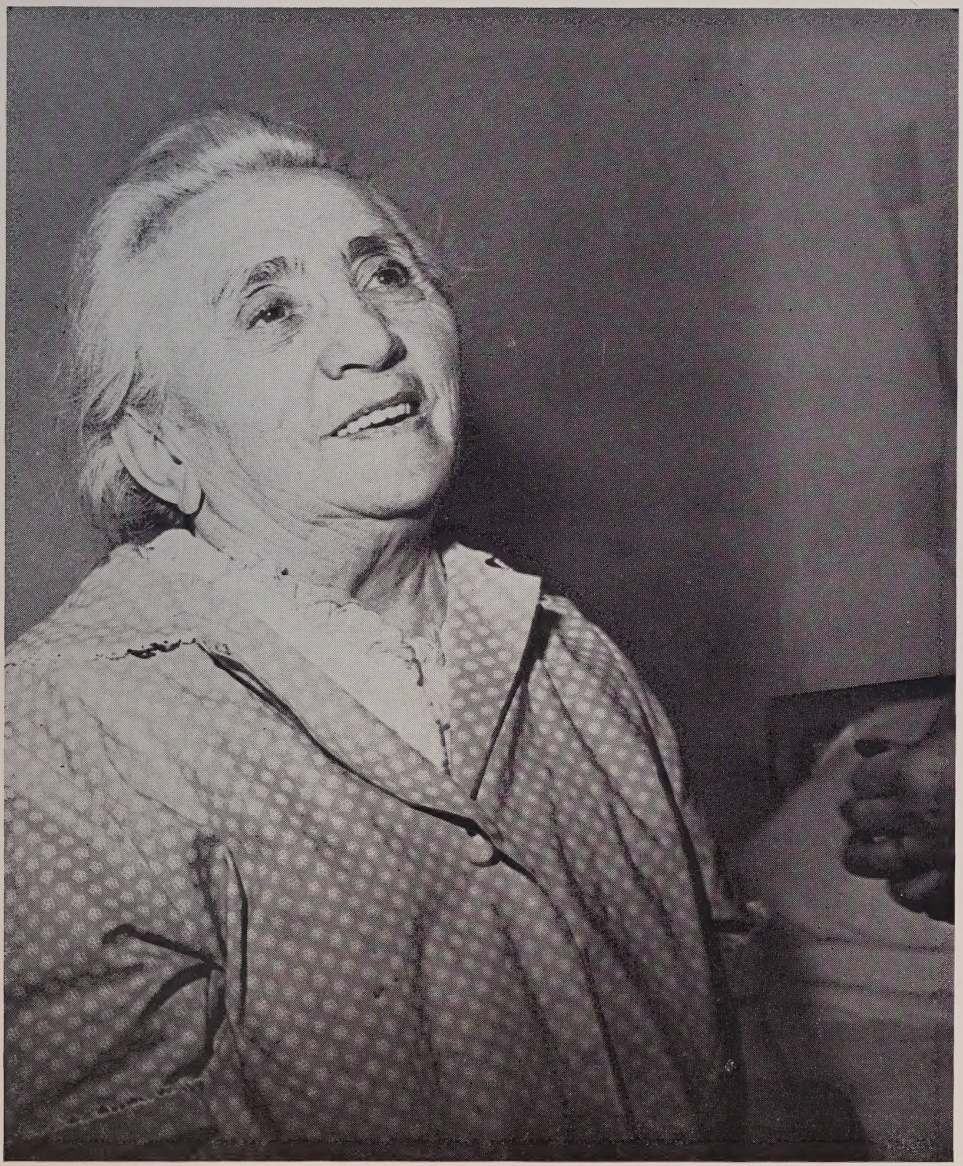
BETTER patient care always has been the first and most important objective of Beth Israel Hospital. By utilizing all of its professional skills and medical resources, by applying new scientific knowledge gained from its intensive and continuous research and teaching activities, this Community and University Hospital has been able to strengthen its ability to provide a high quality of patient care.

"Professional skills and medical resources." But how do you put into action — warmth, tenderness and compassion? These, too, are priceless ingredients of good patient care.



"Not only were those who attended me, including doctors, nurses, aides and orderlies, most cheerful and considerate, but the atmosphere, on the whole, was one in which I could feel at ease and comfortable."

Our Volunteers

From October 1, 1956, to September 30, 1957, approximately 608 volunteers gave 52,564 hours of service to Beth Israel Hospital. These men and women worked directly with the Volunteer Service in helping the Hospital share the responsibility of providing services to and for patients.

Special recognition is given to these devoted workers, whose names are recorded below, for the unusual number of hours they volunteered on behalf of the Hospital and its patients.

The Hospital expresses its gratitude and appreciation to these men and women and to the hundreds of others, including Women's Auxiliary leaders, who contributed many hours of service in all areas of Hospital activity.
